

EVENTS	ACTIVITY/DESCRIPTION
ACM (Association for Computing Machinery) Student Club ¹ (In Process)	This club promotes activities related to computer science and software engineering within the Schools including organizing competitions, guest speaker sessions, workshops, etc.
“Let’s Code it” Programming Competition	“Let’s Code it” is an Intra University programming competition held among the students of Emirates Aviation University. In this competition, participants were provided with challenging problem sets to be solved through programming.
Software Human Computer Interaction (HCI) Projects Display & Presentations	Presentation and Display day for Software Human Computer Interaction students took place where the students displayed and presented their projects that help solve multiple problems for humans using technology.